

Name: _____

Date: _____

Mountains – HTML vs. XML

Background:

The Mountain Peak data are displayed below in two different formats – the first is HTML, and the second is XML.

| peak | range | state | long | lat | elev_ft | elev_m | prominence_ft | prominence_m | rank |
|----------------------------|--------------------------|--------|-----------|---------|---------|--------|---------------|--------------|------|
| Mount McKinley (Denali) | Alaska Range | Alaska | -151.0063 | 63.0690 | 20236 | 6168 | 20174 | 6149 | 1 |
| Mount Saint Elias | Saint Elias Mountains | Alaska | -140.9264 | 60.2931 | 18009 | 5489 | 11250 | 3429 | 2 |
| Mount Foraker | Alaska Range | Alaska | -151.3998 | 62.9604 | 17400 | 5304 | 7250 | 2210 | 3 |

```
<mountainpeaks>
  <data>
    <mountains>
      <mountain>
        <peak>Mount McKinley (Denali)</peak>
        <range>Alaska Range</range>
        <state>Alaska</state>
        <long>-151.0063</long>
        <lat>63.069</lat>
        <elev_ft>20236</elev_ft>
        <elev_m>6168</elev_m>
        <prominence_ft>20174</prominence_ft>
        <prominence_m>6149</prominence_m>
        <rank>1</rank>
      </mountain>
      <mountain>
        <peak>Mount Saint Elias</peak>
        <range>Saint Elias Mountains</range>
        <state>Alaska</state>
        <long>-140.9264</long>
        <lat>60.2931</lat>
        <elev_ft>18009</elev_ft>
        <elev_m>5489</elev_m>
        <prominence_ft>11250</prominence_ft>
        <prominence_m>3429</prominence_m>
        <rank>2</rank>
      </mountain>
      <mountain>
        <peak>Mount Foraker</peak>
        <range>Alaska Range</range>
        <state>Alaska</state>
        <long>-151.3998</long>
        <lat>62.9604</lat>
        <elev_ft>17400</elev_ft>
        <elev_m>5304</elev_m>
        <prominence_ft>7250</prominence_ft>
        <prominence_m>2210</prominence_m>
        <rank>3</rank>
      </mountain>
    </mountains>
  </data>
</mountainpeaks>
```